Art Unit: 2183

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-11, 16-26, and 32, drawn to a system for fetching instructions in which the instruction fetch unit determines whether the instruction fetched is valid, classified in class 712, subclass 205.
- II. Claims 12-15, 27-31, and 33, drawn to a system for branch prediction using an address assigned to a set of instructions and retaining the assigned address in the set of instructions, classified in class 712, subclass 239.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention II has separate utility such as a system for branch prediction in a processor which does not use the system for fetching instructions in which the instruction fetch unit determines whether the instruction fetched is valid. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

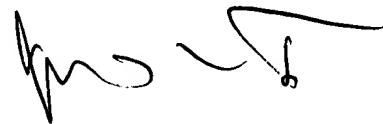

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Group I is not required for Group II, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
